Non-connected shareholders have the right to request the abstention of the connected shareholder. If the shareholder proposed for abstention or other shareholders disagree with the determination of the matter as a connected transaction, the requirement for abstention, or the waiver of voting rights, they may request the Board of Directors to convene an extraordinary meeting to resolve in this regard. If the dissenting party remains unsatisfied, they may apply for resolution through legally recognized means after the general meeting;

- (4) When deliberating on a connected transaction proposal, the chairman of the meeting shall announce the connected relationship between the relevant shareholder and such connected transaction matter;
- (5) The chairman of the meeting shall explicitly announce the abstention of connected shareholders, and the connected transaction matter shall be voted on by non-connected shareholders;

- (6) When a resolution on a connected transaction proposal is formed, depending on whether it is an ordinary resolution or a special resolution, it shall be passed by more than half or two-thirds of the valid voting rights held by non-connected shareholders present at the meeting;
- (7) If a connected shareholder fails to disclose the connected information and abstain on the connected transaction matter in accordance with the above procedures, the general meeting has the right to revoke any resolution related to the connected transaction matter.

If special circumstances prevent the abstention of a connected shareholder, the Company may, after obtaining approval from the relevant authorities, proceed with voting in accordance with normal procedures. However, the votes of non-connected shareholders shall be specifically counted, and a valid resolution may only be formed if it is passed by more than half of the voting rights held by non-connected shareholders.

The voting rights owned by shareholders may be cumulatively used. The Board of Directors shall announce the biographies and basic information of the Director and Supervisor candidates to shareholders.

Detailed rules for the implementation of the cumulative voting system shall be drafted by the Board of Directors and approved by the general meeting, with the aim of fully protecting the legitimate rights and interests of minority shareholders in the election of Directors and Supervisors.

Article 113 Except for cumulative voting, all proposals at the general meeting shall be voted on item by item. Where different proposals relate to the same matter, they shall be voted on in the order of when they are proposed.
